

Who should YOU call?

...when you learn a child you love has a disability or a chronic illness?

These, and thousands of other families of kids with special needs, have called About Special Kids (ASK) for support, access to resources, and help with:

- Health insurance options
- State and federal programs
- School-based programs
- Community programs
- Support groups
- Respite
- Medical equipment
- Special education law

ASK helps Indiana families and caregivers with the challenges of medical and daily life for children with special needs from birth through age 22.

ASK serves children with needs ranging from learning and behavioral health issues to significant disabilities and life-threatening illnesses... FREE of charge.

Unique to ASK is our parent liaison staff, all parents who have children with special needs. Also unique to ASK is our online Resource Directory with its listing of over 2,000 organizations focused on children with special needs:

“I used to cry because I didn’t know what to do to help my child.

Once I found ASK, I never cried again. I never cried from not knowing.”
